

558-3333. It is further

ORDERED that defense counsel shall be prepared to state at the conference whether Defendants have produced the documents requested on June 25, 2020, and July 9, 2020. If Defendants have not produced the documents, the in-house client representative(s) responsible for collecting documents for any such Defendant shall attend the conference. It is further

ORDERED that counsel shall meet and confer and be prepared to discuss the following at the conference, consistent with the parties' request for a final extension of discovery for 60 days:

- Whether any party intends to serve interrogatories and requests to admit, and if so, why they have not yet been served and the earliest date by which they can be served;
- The status of any third-party discovery;
- What depositions remain to be taken in the case, identifying each deponent by name and a general description, and providing for each deponent a confirmed, agreed-upon date for the deposition;
- What if any expert discovery is intended, including the subject matter of the opinion, the name of the expert, the status of required written expert reports;
- A schedule for expert discovery as provided in Paragraph 9(c) of the Case Management Plan.
